MAHADASHAS

WITHIN JUPITER — ANTARDASHAS

How to read this — life is divided into long planetary chapters (mahadashas) and shorter sub-chapters (antardashas). This analysis reads your whole Jupiter chapter: the season you are in, every sub-period ahead of it, and the handover to the next era.

01

THE MAJOR-PERIOD THEME

The Jupiter Chapter

In July 2018 your calendar quietly changed hands. The Rahu mahadasha — eighteen years of stretch, appetite, and identity experiments — ended, and Jupiter took the chair for sixteen years. Jupiter chapters expand what they touch: roles widen, responsibilities deepen, and life starts asking a better class of question — not how much more, but toward what.

For your Mithuna lagna, Jupiter is a demanding benefactor: it rules your seventh and tenth houses, so its growth arrives dressed as partnership and public duty. Eight years in, you may recognise the pattern — every gift of this era has come with an obligation stitched into it. That is not bad fortune; it is the chapter's design.

“Jupiter does not give more room. It gives more responsibility, and calls it room.”

02

THE ACTIVE SUB-PERIOD

Jupiter–Venus: the season of worth

Since 8 June 2026 the Venus antardasha has been running — the softest, most relational sub-period this mahadasha offers, and it holds the calendar until 6 February 2029. After a Ketu year that many people experience as scattered and strangely detached, Venus returns colour: relationships, aesthetics, comfort, and the question of what your effort is actually for.

Venus is your cleanest functional benefic, so this is a genuinely supportive stretch — good for alliances, refinement of work, and money earned through relationships rather than grind. Its friction point is indulgence-by-optimism: Jupiter's confidence plus Venus's appetite can commit you to things that merely felt good in the meeting.

THE WORK OF THIS SUB-PERIOD

Learn to receive without instantly repaying. Choose quality over volume in commitments. Let one relationship renegotiate its give-and-take honestly.

03

HOW THEMES SHOW UP DAY TO DAY

How the season shows up

Career & work mindset. Openings arrive through people, not applications. Say yes to rooms, introductions, collaborations; postpone solo grinds. Practical step: one meaningful professional conversation each week.

Money & stability. Inflow steadies, outflow drifts toward quality-of-life. Fine — budget beauty deliberately instead of denying it. Practical step: a one-week pause on any spend above a month's savings.

Relationships & emotional responses. The headline arena until 2029. Old give-and-take arrangements come up for honest renegotiation. Practical step: name what you need out loud once, before resentment names it for you.

Energy & motivation. Steadier than the Ketu year. Motivation follows meaning and enjoyment now, not pressure. Practical step: protect one unhurried evening a week — rest is fuel in Venus periods, not truancy.

04

OLDER PATTERNS ACTIVATED IN THIS PERIOD

Why old patterns surface now

A Makara Moon in the eighth house usually points to an early life where being the reliable one earned belonging — feelings waited their turn while duties went first. Venus periods reward receiving, and your conditioning trained you for earning; the friction between those two is precisely where this sub-period does its quiet work. When ease feels suspicious, that is the old rule being renegotiated — not a malfunction.

05

THE PERIOD MAP AND TRANSITIONS

Your map to 2034

VENUS ANTARDASHA • 8 JUN 2026 – 6 FEB 2029BUILD

The constructive heart of the mahadasha for you: alliances, taste, worth. Build the relationships and standards the rest of the era will run on.

SUN ANTARDASHA • 6 FEB 2029 – 26 NOV 2029STAND TALL

Short and bright. Authority themes peak — yours and others'. Visibility rises; so does ego friction in partnerships. Lead without needing the credit and this period pays.

MOON ANTARDASHA • 26 NOV 2029 – 28 MAR 2031TEND

The emotional counterweight. Home, family, inner weather take the foreground. A softer, domestic sixteen months — let output targets breathe.

MARS ANTARDASHA • 28 MAR 2031 – 3 MAR 2032CHANNEL

Energy returns with an edge. Superb for disciplined execution, risky for quarrels — give Mars a project or it will find a person.

RAHU ANTARDASHA • 3 MAR 2032 – 27 JUL 2034SIMPLIFY

The mahadasha's long exhale. Ambition amplifies and fogs; finish, consolidate, and resist reinvention — the real reinvention belongs to the next era.

06

THE NEXT MEANINGFUL HANDOVER

After Jupiter: the Saturn era

On 27 July 2034 the Saturn mahadasha begins — nineteen years, and for your chart a dignified one: Saturn sits in its own mooltrikona sign in your ninth house. Where Jupiter expanded, Saturn structures. The questions change from 'what can grow?' to 'what deserves to last?'

Everything the current era is teaching you — honest partnerships, standards, receiving without ledger-keeping — is the raw material Saturn will ask you to build with. People who arrive at a Saturn era with Jupiter's lessons unlearned experience it as heavy; people who arrive prepared experience it as harvest with a long horizon.

HOW TO USE THE SEASON CONSTRUCTIVELY

Working with the season

Start now, while Venus runs: partnerships, client relationships, anything whose value compounds through trust. Sustain: the disciplines that survived the Ketu year — they are load-bearing. Postpone: irreversible reinventions until after the Rahu antardasha; the urge will feel strongest exactly when the timing is weakest.

Decision windows: favour the Venus years for agreements and launches involving people; use the Sun months for stepping forward personally; treat the Moon period as maintenance, not expansion.

WHEN TO REVISIT THIS ANALYSIS

At each antardasha boundary in your timeline — February 2029, November 2029, March 2031, March 2032 — and once before July 2034, when we should talk about the Saturn era properly.

08

A GROUNDED WAY TO USE THE GUIDANCE

Before remedies, awareness

Nothing in this analysis needs fixing. Dashas are weather, not verdicts — the same rain that floods one field waters another, and the difference is preparation. Let this map sit with you; guidance built on an unexamined pattern only ends up serving the pattern.

“This season's rule: receive first, decide slowly, build what deserves to outlast it.”

A CLOSING WORD

Seasons, not sentences

Nothing here is a verdict. A dasha describes the weather of a season — you remain the one who decides how to sail. Revisit this analysis at each transition marked in your timeline.
